TABLE OF CONTENTS

The Refugee-Claims Procedure — An Overview
by David Matas ........................................ p. 3

Refugee Status Determination Procedure in Germany, France, the U.S.A. and Australia
by Jean-François Durieux .................................... p. 5

The Refugee-Claims System
by Raphael Girard ........................................ p. 8

A Lawyer's Perspective on Canadian Refugee Policy
by Michael Schelew .......................................... p. 11

Refugee Protection
by Kathleen Ptolemy ....................................... p. 15

Book Reviews:
The Refugee in International Law
reviewed by William Angus ................................ p. 20

Me llamo Rigoberto Menchu y así me nació la conciencia reviewed by Alex Zisman .................................... p. 21

The Reminiscences of Bohdan Panchuk reviewed by Tanya Basok ................................ p. 22

Letters
To the Editor
The International Institute of Humanitarian Law is an independent, non-governmental institute incorporated under Italian law which seeks to promote international law and co-operation in the prevention of disasters, whether man-made or natural, and in the protection of the victims of such disasters. It regularly holds conferences working groups and lecture courses at its headquarters, the Villa Nobel in San Remo.
In the coming summer months, it is holding a series of meetings on human rights, humanitarian law and refugee law. These will concern such matters as improved regional co-operation, the detention of refugees and fundamental principles in the protection of victims of all disaster situations.
The Institute publishes a yearbook as well as the reports of its various meetings and studies by different experts.

International Institute of Humanitarian Law
Villa Nobel
Corso Cavallotti 112
18038 San Remo, Italy