WOMEN'S RIGHTS ARE HUMAN RIGHTS: FOCUS ON YOUTH

The Centre for Refugee Studies and the Centre for Feminist Research at York University will host a conference to raise awareness of issues surrounding human rights, labour, and exile with respect to youth and particularly young women and girls.

Date: Monday, March 6 — Wednesday, March 8, 1995
Place: York University • Toronto • Canada

Workshop areas include:
- Family law
- Race, class, ethnicity and religion
- Health
- Sexuality
- Girls and adolescents as immigrants, migrants, and refugees
- The risk of being conceived female
- The silencing of the girl child
- Child labour and adolescents in the workforce
- Education and gender role stereotyping
- Post-conflict and children as peacemakers
- Violence and violation

For registration and further information on the conference, please contact:
Linda Norheim
Centre for Feminist Research
Suite 228, York Lanes, York University
4700 Keele Street, North York
Ontario, Canada M3J 1P3
Tel: (416) 736-5915 • Fax: (416) 736-5416

York Centre for Feminist Research
Centre for Refugee Studies